Typical Seasonal Trend for Kamloops Residential Real Estate Market

KAMLOOPS, B.C. – March 7th, 2023. Residential real estate sales showing positive signs of normalizing compared to the previous years of over stimulated market activity, reports the Association of Interior REALTORS® (the Association).

A total of 831 residential unit sales were recorded across the Association region in February representing a 46.1% decrease in sales compared to the hyper market of February 2022, yet up compared to January's 555 unit sales.

“The uptick in sales activity compared to the previous month suggests that we are heading in a positive direction,” says the Association of Interior REALTORS® President Lyndi Cruickshank, adding that “the overstimulated boom of the last few years, along with multiple mortgage rate hikes made many buyers and sellers hesitant to make any moves. Now that the dust is starting to settle, these buyers and sellers can move forward in a transitionally healthier real estate market more reminiscent of pre-pandemic conditions.”

New residential listings saw a 14.7% decrease within the region compared to February 2022 with 1,579 new listings recorded. Overall inventory saw a healthy increase of 82% with 5,213 units currently on the market at the close of February.*

“As we have seen throughout the last few years, the lack of housing supply continues to limit buyer options and ultimately creates a continued tight hold on inventory,” notes Cruickshank, adding “hopefully, the provincial government’s recently announced budget commitment for its refreshed housing strategy will help bring some much-needed new inventory to the market.”

Within the Kamloops and District region, there were 149 residential unit sales recorded last month, up from the 104 recorded in January 2023, yet down 50.8% compared to unusually high February 2022 sales.

There were 305 new listings added in February in the Kamloops and District region, which was a decrease of 16.2% compared to the same time last year. Overall inventory, or active listings, saw an increase of 112% increase compared to February 2022, coming in at 793.

“While there has been a gradual increase in inventory levels in the Kamloops area over the past few months, this growth is not sufficient to meet the demand for new listings required to achieve a balanced market,” says Cruickshank.

The benchmark price, a better representation of value compared to the average or median price as it represents a dwelling of “typical attributes”, saw an increase in the townhouse category of 5.1% coming in at $520,600 compared to the February 2022, with 8.7% percentage decreases within both the condominium and single-family home categories.
